

Tennis, Anyone?

Not only are Dr. Jones and Dr. Hahn award-winning doctors, they're award winning tennis players as well. The two docs, playing for a United States Tennis Association men's team from the Western Reserve Racquet Club, advanced to the 5-state regional tennis finals, which were held in Indianapolis, Indiana this summer. To get to the regional finals, Dr. Jones and Dr. Hahn played in a series of matches around Ohio and became the #1 men's tennis team in their class for Ohio and West Virginia. Their team tied for first in the regional finals but later lost in a heartbreaking tie-breaker match. Go get 'em next year, docs!
